Greetings Comrades,

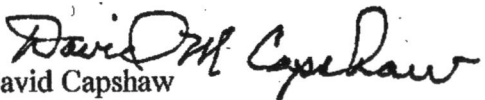

As of late, The Department of Indiana has had some trials and tribulations. Most recently, was the Commander in Chief's formal removal of the previous state commander: Michael Simms on the 22nd of February.

Allegations made resulted in a jury of a panel of his peers to be assembled. Afterwards, this panel found the allegations to be substantiated, resulting in his removal from position and permanent removal of VFW membership.

While the days have been dark, we will keep our eyes on our mission and strive to come together, support one another, and revive the VFW purpose. We only exist because of the mission to serve, and must continue to keep our focus on doing so.

Do not be discouraged, but rather encouraged to move forth into the future with renewed inspiration to rise up amidst the ashes and become stronger.

Thank you, and see you at the Spring Conference,

David Capshaw
State Commander, Department of Indiana
